Global Air

Trans Global Logistics has a long history of providing value-added air freight services to shippers throughout North America and the Intra-Asia region. As a leading IATA forwarder, we can seamlessly handle your scheduled air shipments and time-definite freight that has to be expedited.

The two forces that define our capabilities are our team of people and a strong network in Asia.

But, as you know, a strong network doesn't move your cargo. People do. And we've got some of the best in the business. Every member of the Trans Global team—from senior management, to station managers, and the associates who handle your shipments every day—is dedicated to your needs. We take pride in our hands-on, high-priority service.

Key Carrier Partnerships

To insure that you have the lift you need—when you need it—and economic routing of your cargo, we have contracts and strong relationships with the top air carriers. These partnerships guarantee your cargo space throughout the year and during the peak shipping season.

Charters

Many of the largest shippers in the world utilize Trans Global for air charters. We have a proven track record arranging charters both during the peak shipping season—and when your supply chain demands dedicated services.

Compliance

Trans Global provides a full range of export and import documentation services. At origin, we can process export documents and then coordinate customs clearance at destination.

Global Ocean

Trans Global Logistics' ocean freight forwarding programs are tailored for importers and exporters that ship globally. As an ocean freight forwarder, we offer a full range of less-than-container-load (LCL) and full-container-load (FCL) transportation. These services include through bills of lading from origin to destination, expedited transit times, and vendor consolidation programs when dealing with multiple suppliers.

Ocean Options

With ocean freight contracts with the top carriers, Trans Global offers a full range of transit, service, and scheduled sailing options at competitive rates. Our dedicated team of associates will work with your logistics professionals to design the right forwarding program to keep your supply chains optimized. And if you need time-bound forwarding from Asia, we can expedite your cargo.

Through our network of offices in 18 countries in Asia, and our own U.S. offices, we provide door-to-door, terminal-to-terminal, and port-to-port ocean transportation. All on a single bill of lading. What's more, we will handle the required documentation, regulatory compliance requirements, warehousing, trucking, and local drayage.

Value-Added Services and Technology Solutions

When you team up with Trans Global Logistics you benefit from a business partner that provides value-added products and services to help manage your supply chain. Whether you are looking to integrate shipment information into your business process through electronic data interchange (EDI) or bar code scanning, monitor your shipments via a custom web-based tracking system or manage your purchase orders, Trans Global has the right resources for you.

We leverage key capabilities to offer turnkey IT services: a skilled group of technology associates and sophisticated systems. Throughout our extensive network of offices in Asia and our U.S. offices, we integrate vital shipment information and make it available to you in the form that best suits your needs. We can share information in a standard format and deliver data that will allow you to make time- and cost-based logistics decisions.

Air and Ocean Shipment Visibility

Our sophisticated EDI-driven tracking system—T-Track—is available electronically. The system provides global air and ocean freight visibility and inventory status linked to your purchase order (PO) data. With T-Track, you can manage critical information throughout the logistics cycle—from material sourcing to delivery at destination—and inventory in our global warehouse facilities.

T-Track time-stamps each event during the logistics process. The system also lets you track shipment and storage items via any reference number for current status and expected delivery time. If you need detailed inventory updates, we use bar code-scanning technology to provide the latest information about your cargo.
